

Drawing and Painting techniques

Art from 1 week to 9 months

The complete course in Art is divided into 9 units (from unit A to unit I) and lasts 9 months. Students are however welcome to attend specific parts of the course (minimum 1 week). Courses normally start on any Monday.

The teachers, highly qualified and experts in the various disciplines and techniques such as classical drawing, oil painting, watercolour and fresco, will evaluate the students' skills at the beginning of each unit and help them to establish their objectives. Each unit lasts 4 weeks, for a total amount of 56 or 80 hours, inclusive of 8 hours of living models.

The first units introduce basic drawing and painting techniques while the following units aim at developing and improving students artistic skills. At the end of these nine units students will have acquired the basic knowledge required towards the making of their personal portfolios and will concentrate on the study of one specific technique.

The lessons are integrated with conversations on art history. In order to ensure the highest quality of tuition, the number of students will not exceed 10 per group.
